

Amalgam

Company statement on Coronavirus (COVID-19)

Introduction

Along with every other company and institution in the UK and the rest of the world, we are keeping a close eye on the rapidly developing situation regarding the COVID 19 pandemic. We, like most others in the UK, are reliant on advice and guidance published by the NHS and government sources, which is being updated regularly. While we will attempt to keep this statement up to date, please do check official sources for yourself as well.

Our policy

Amalgam's top priority is the health and safety of staff and visitors, we therefore ask that you respect and follow the following restrictions:

- No member of staff or visitor to enter the building within 14 days of being exposed to a high risk area of the world* or any suspected infected person.
- Physical meetings at Amalgam or on a client's premises to be replaced by phone calls, e-mail communication or online meetings wherever possible.
- All visitors to Amalgam to be asked to wash their hands on arrival and to avoid physical contact such as handshakes throughout their visit.
- Amalgam staff will avoid networking events or client visits unless essential.
- We understand that events, product launches and presentations might well be delayed, rescheduled or even cancelled. Our aim is to be as flexible and accommodating as possible, but we will need to cover any costs that have been incurred. If this happens to a project you are overseeing, please get in touch ASAP so we can prevent unnecessary charges accruing.
